Broadloom carpet | Brintons

Interface

Ideal for designers who wish to reduce the impact that finishes have on the environment

Many of the collections by Interface are based on Biophilic design and their research has shown that guests had a 36% higher dwell rate in hotel lobbies that had biophilic elements

Modular carpet from Interface is easy to maintain, allowing quicker installation with less waste and selective replacement which is not possible in broadloom carpet which is traditionally used in hotels.

CORRIDORS OR ROOMS? WE'VE GOT YOU COVERED

Interface's non directional installation method creates the visual effect of the carpet broadloom form from wall to wall in your corridors or rooms, even though its made in a modular form

Its dry-installation system, known as TacTiles, offers a faster, cleaner , more earth-friendly alternative to traditional carpet adhesives. They are easy to use and eliminate the mess, odor and drying time of spread adhesives
